Did Facebook ads win the presidency for Donald Trump? Did they cause Brexit? Are they changing the way democracy works?

Install Who Targets Me to find out who's using Facebook ads to win your vote – and how they're doing it.

Dodajte ekstenziju.

A screenshot of a web browser showing the Chrome Web Store page for the 'Who Targets Me' extension. The browser's address bar shows the URL 'https://chrome.google.com/webstore/detail/who-targets-me/fcejbjalmgocomoinikjejnkimlnoljp?hl=en'. The page title is 'chrome web store'. The breadcrumb navigation is 'Home > Extensions > Who Targets Me'. The extension's name 'Who Targets Me' is displayed, along with its icon and the URL 'Offered by: https://whotargets.me'. Below the name, there are 11 stars and the category 'Social & Communication' with 6,307 users. A dialog box titled 'Add "Who Targets Me"?' is open, showing the permissions: 'It can: Read and change all your data on the websites you visit' and 'Display notifications'. The dialog has 'Add extension' and 'Cancel' buttons.

Klikom na ekstenziju u gornjem desnom kutu pretraživača podesite postavke za jezik (Hrvatski), zemlju (Croatia) te poštanski broj.

Dodajte podatke za svoj rod, dob i političke stavove u rasponu jako lijevi-jako desni (možete se i ne izjasniti), potvrdite podatke i to je to! Slobodno podijelite na Facebooku i Twitteru da dođe do što većeg broja ljudi.

Nastavite koristiti Facebook na uobičajen način i provjerite rezultate klikom na ikonicu ekstenzije za nekoliko dana. Tamo će biti vidljivi rezultati kad se prikupi dovoljno podataka.
